Quest is the leadership journey that all managers embark on during their time at Regis, which is underpinned by Regis leadership and brand values.

Regis is committed to providing the tools and support managers need to continually develop and strive for higher levels of leadership excellence.

Every leader's development journey is different and can be challenging at times, but QUEST provides the necessary direction and support to learn from challenges, and grow. We commence the journey gathering feedback on the leader's current performance from their team, their manager and themselves. This is used to build a tailored action plan for the individual.

All leaders attend leadership workshops, work in mini-learning cohorts, attend facilitated online discussion groups, sharing, and learning Individual leadership psychometrics to allow them to identify strengths and areas for development, whilst tracking progress over time. For those showing the highest commitment to, and aptitude for, leadership, Regis offers a 1:1 Leadership Coaching program.
